CAPABILITY STATEMENT

I have a thirst for solving logical problems, a curious mind with artistic sensibilities and a passion for helping people. My background in a variety of fields including Customer Service, Training, Photography, Film Making and Music, has given me a wealth of a professional experience and a knack for thinking outside the box. However, I've always been passionate about computers and the tech space. I've taught myself through online courses, started a small tech support business in my local community and finally joined Coder Academy to cement my knowledge in the IT world. I'm excited to finally pursue my dream of becoming a developer. I'm a father of two young, awesome kids (7 and 5). I love them, but they take time away from my coding... priorities right?
